Grown and Evangelizing (Part 5)

1. Boldness is a result of prayer.

Boldness in sharing our faith is a result of personal prayer and the prayers of others. Paul himself commonly asked for prayer to speak boldly. In Ephesians 6:19-20, he said this:

Pray also for me, that whenever I open my mouth, words may be given me so that I will fearlessly make known the mystery of the gospel, for which I am an ambassador in chains. Pray that I may declare it fearlessly, as I should.

Ephesians is a prison epistle along with Philipians—something he wrote while in Rome. He essentially petitioned for others to pray for his boldness twice. He asked for prayer to preach the word "fearlessly." It was not Paul's natural strength which made him a bold witness. It was his recognition of weakness which caused him to depend upon God and the prayers of others. He needed their prayers to preach boldly every day, even though he knew his preaching could make his situation worse. He needed prayer to be bold while sitting next to a soldier with a large sword in his hand. Just like Paul, we need prayers too.

We must petition the Lord for boldness to witness, and we should ask others to pray for our boldness as well. We must do this if we are going to be fearless in whatever situation God places us.

Prayer Request

Confess your faults one to another, and pray one for another, that ye may be healed. The effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much. James 5:16

5. Sporting events, festivals, and religious services

Sports fans might still be safer watching the big game from their couches this year, although a recent study found that limiting the number of people in the stands can keep the risk of COVID-19 transmission low. According to a study in JAMA Network Open, 528 NFL and NCAA football games that had limited in-person attendance during the 2020–21 season weren't linked to increased COVID-19 cases in the community.

Similar to the situation with beaches and pools, outdoor sporting arenas are believed to be safer than indoor ones. Yet even outdoors, fans often yell, chant, and sing, sit close together, travel from outside the area, and share food and personal items like noisemakers with others—all risk factors for spreading COVID-19. The same can be said about places of religious worship where there is singing and praying. Dr. Horovitz notes, though there may be increased risks since services are usually held indoors. Big music festivals also pose some risk, but if there's a vaccination requirement in place, this risk is much lower.

With the exception of religious services, most events are broadcast live, but those attending in person should not hesitate to ask about the property's cleaning and disinfection protocols, according to Dr. Lushniak. "All this is about your personal and your family's health," he says.
