Grown and Evangelizing (Part 18)

Submitted by: Eric W. Doss

Observation Question: How did Paul respond to these attacks from the brethren, and what can we learn from his response?

All that matters is that Christ is preached"—that was his primary concern because that concern would affect eternity.

How do you respond when people criticize you—when people treat you wrong, possibly out of envy and a desire to see you fail? How do you respond? Are you quick to fight and get angry? Or are you like Paul—willing to overlook the wrong? Are you like Christ—willing to turn the other cheek and at times even practice silence?

I'll be honest as a pastor who also suffers criticism—sometimes just, others unjust, or simply unwise. It is a great place to practice sanctification. I commonly think of Paul and Christ, and I take comfort. I practice biting my tongue even when I feel my rights have been violated. "What does it really matter? As long as the gospel is being preached, what does it matter?" A mature witness should expect attack and also respond in a godly manner.

Prayer Request

Confess your faults one to another, and pray one for another, that ye may be healed. The effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much. James 5:16

HealthCare Ministry Reducing COVID’s Toll (Part 3)

Covid hospitalizations per million people in California

“I remain most worried about lack of booster uptake among the elderly and the immunocompromised,” Jennifer Nuzzo, a Johns Hopkins University epidemiologist, told me.

Many Americans still have not gotten this message, though.

What might help? A prominent public-service campaign, focused specifically on booster shots rather than vaccination, could. So could encouragement from politically conservative voices.
