Why Does God Allow Good People to Suffer? (Part 18)

Paul's suffering and the comfort he gains from God he now shares in common with other sufferers.

Fellowship also works in the opposite direction. When a particular believer is suffering, fellow-believers draw near to share the burden. That particular ministry Paul speaks of is the ministry of prayer.

This theme occurs in Philippians 1: "For I know that this shall turn out for my deliverance through your prayers and the provision of the Spirit of Jesus Christ" (Philippians 1:19). As Christians join together with the sufferer, interceding for him with God, they enter into a special fellowship. And when those prayers are answered as God purposes, those who have petitioned God may now praise Him for the answers to their prayers. The suffering of one member of the body affects all (1 Corinthians 12:26). And God's mercy shown to the sufferer becomes an opportunity for all to praise God for the answer, according to the will of God, to their prayers.

How sad when saints become self-absorbed by their suffering, turning inward, and shriveling up as a result. Those who respond rightly to their suffering turn upward (Godward) and outward (toward people in need of comfort and encouragement), and they grow and blossom as a result.

"Of the many solutions given in Scripture of the mystery of pain," Menzies comments, "this is not the least notable; the sufferer who feels that his sufferings equip him as a missionary of comfort to others will feel that they are well-explained."

Prayer Request

Confess your faults one to another, and pray one for another, that ye may be healed. The effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much. James 5:16

New Study Identifies 6 “Clusters” of COVID-19 Symptoms

Submitted by: Beatrice Ramsey

A new study found that COVID-19 symptoms come in six different “clusters,” which may help predict which patients are more at risk and in need of respiratory support. For the study, researchers used a machine learning algorithm to analyze data from more than 1,600 patients in the U.S. and the U.K. who had tested positive for COVID-19 and had regularly logged their symptoms on the Zoe health app in March and April. Researchers then tested the algorithm by using it on an additional 1,047 patients in the U.S., the U.K. and Sweden, who entered their symptoms on the app throughout May.

The study identified six clusters of symptoms.

Cluster 1 (“flulike with no fever): Headache, loss of smell, muscle pains, cough, sore throat, chest pain, no fever

Cluster 2 (flulike with fever): Headache, loss of smell, cough, sore throat, hoarseness, fever, loss of appetite

Cluster 3 (gastrointestinal): Headache, loss of smell, loss of appetite, diarrhea, sore throat, chest pain, no cough

Cluster 4 (severs level 1, fatigue): Headache, loss of smell, cough, fever, hoarseness, chest pain, fatigue
