In Search of Wisdom (Part 9)

From the Minister's Desk

The Pursuit of Wisdom

Wisdom is skill in the art of living with each facet of life under God's authority. This wisdom differs greatly from the wisdom of this world. James tells us:

But if you harbor bitter envy and selfish ambition in your hearts, do not boast about it or deny the truth. Such "wisdom" does not come down from heaven but is earthly, unspiritual, of the devil. For where you have envy and selfish ambition, there you find disorder and every evil practice. But the wisdom that comes from heaven is first of all pure; then peace-loving, considerate, submissive, full of mercy and good fruit, impartial and sincere. James 3:14-17

The wisdom of Christ is very different from the wisdom of this world; do not confuse the two.

Wise men and women throughout the centuries have spent regular time in the book of Proverbs. Some have even made it their practice to read one chapter a day each month, asking God for the qualities celebrated in this marvelous book: wisdom, prudence, understanding, discernment, discipline, insight, knowledge, discretion, guidance, instruction, faithfulness, sound judgment, humility, justice, diligence, the fear of the Lord and a true understanding of success.

Submitted by: Beatrice Ramsey

6. High-risk individuals should ask doctors about oxygen monitors

During the pandemic, some people have purchased oxygen monitors (pulse Johnson warned that people shouldn't rely solely on such devices.

“Anyone with shortness of breath should contact their provider, because that could be a sign of pneumonia.”

For high-risk individuals, an oxygen monitor might be useful, and Johnson said they should consult their doctors.

7. Everyone should get tested. High-risk individuals should call their doctor

Campbell and Johnson both stressed that people at higher risk for COVID-19 should contact their doctor when experiencing symptoms, regardless of severity. And everyone should get a test as soon as they experience symptoms, the experts said.

- High fever
- Shortness of breath
