Some Valuable Nuggets on Forgiveness Ephesians 4:32 (Part 27)

Submitted by: Eric W. Doss

Also, while we should not wish for or pray for God to judge our enemies, but rather to save them, we can take comfort in the fact that if they do not repent, they will face God's justice someday (1 Pet. 4:17-19; Rev. 18:20; 19:1-3). Vengeance belongs to the Lord and He will repay; so we are free to forgive (Rom. 12:19).

D. HAVE COMPASSION ON THE OTHER PERSON AS A FELLOW SINNER NEEDING GOD'S GRACE.

Paul tells us to be kind and tenderhearted toward those who wrong us, rather than bitter and angry. One way to do that is to realize that you don't know all that the other person has gone through in his life. Perhaps his parents abused him. That isn't an excuse for his sin but realizing that he may have had a difficult life may mitigate your anger and put you in the frame of mind to forgive. In other words, the person who has wronged me is just like me, a sinner in need of God's grace. So, I need to be kind and forgiving towards him.

Prayer Request

Confess your faults one to another, and pray one for another, that ye may be healed. The effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much. James 5:16

“COVID: The Threat in Perspective”- (Part 2)

Submitted by: Beatrice Ramsey

2. Give booster shots

Scientists are still trying to figure out how quickly vaccine immunity wanes. But the bulk of the evidence suggests that it does wane at least somewhat in the first year after vaccination, which creates additional risks for older people. Among that evidence: Covid case counts are higher in Britain, where vaccinations tended to happen earlier, than in other parts of Europe, as John Burn-Murdoch of The Financial Times has noted.

Waning immunity, in turn, suggests that booster shots can protect vulnerable people.

In the U.S., the federal government has not yet authorized booster shots for any recipients of the Moderna or Johnson & Johnson vaccines, although a scientific advisory panel has recommended them for people who are 65 and older, among others. Pfizer vaccine recipients 65 and older are already eligible for a booster once they are at least six months removed from their second shot.

Powell was set to receive a booster shot last week but had to postpone it when he became sick, a spokeswoman said.
