Von Willebrand Disease

Von Willebrand is a lifelong bleeding disorder, causing your blood not to clot properly. This disease can lead to excessive bleeding from cuts, surgical procedures, heavy menstrual bleeding, nose bleeding, easy bruising and prolong bleeding from gums, especially after dental work. Although most people with (VWD) experience mild to moderate symptoms, that can be manage with treatments. It is considered the most common bleeding disorder with no cure.

How to take care of myself? *Avoid activities where you may get hurt such as- any type of contact sports. * Inform all healthcare providers, you have (VWD) so they can plan how to manage bleeding, when it happens. *Avoid medications containing aspirin. *Avoid (NSAID) nonsteroidal anti-inflammatory medication like Ibuprofen, unless your doctor, who knows you have (VWD) tells you to take Ibuprofen. God sees what you can't see..

The blocked road, the missed opportunity the closed door, the heartbreak, the rejection, the pain and the turmoil was for a reason.

God is protecting you, but you just don't seem to understand that.

The Good news is,

God sees what you can't see, He doesn't look at things the way we look at it.

you only have to trust the process.

Trust His plan.

What hurts you now, won't hurt forever.

After getting what you prayed for ask for discipline to keep it and wisdom to multiply it.
