Tinnitus occurs when you experience hearing abnormal inner ear sounds. This noise isn't caused by a sound that comes from the outside. The sound can be heard in either one or both ears. The noises of tinnitus may vary in pitch from a low roar to a high squeal. In some cases these sounds can make it hard to focus or hear other sounds. Tinnitus maybe present all the times or it may come and go. Tinnitus is common, it affects about 15% to 30% of the people and is more common in older adults. There are two main types of tinnitus: Subjective Tinnitus – this is the most common type of tinnitus, only you can hear the noises. Objective Tinnitus – this is the less common type, a healthcare professional also can hear sounds from the neck, head or ear during examination. This type often has a specific cause that can be treated.

SYMPTOMS: Sounds reported by people hearing --- ringing, buzzing, roaring, clicking, hissing, humming, whooshing and pulsating like the sound of a heartbeat. Some people are not bothered by low pitched sounds. While other people, tinnitus disrupts their daily lives.

Remember: Contact your doctor, if your tinnitus starts after a cold / respiratory infection, that doesn't go away within a week. Also if you have a sudden hearing loss, dizziness, numbness or weakness in the face, arm or leg with tinnitus. Another reason to contact your doctor, if tinnitus make you feel anxious, depressed or disrupt your sleep. But most of all, if you develop tinnitus after being in a car accident, and getting hurt playing sports. Your doctor will do an examination with your reported symptoms to determine your treatment.
